If you would eat strawberries, you must grow them.

The best plants at low prices.

KANSAS GROWN STRAWBERRY PLANTS ARE THE BEST

GREETINGS, 1938

After one more disastrously dry season, we are issuing this price list. We have been growing strawberries fifty-six years in this county, the past five have been the worst dry seasons the state has ever experienced. However, the season of 1937 did not wreck our strawberry field as badly as some other seasons. The plants are extra well rooted but not so plentiful, perhaps we have one-half a million. However, we must carry on, hoping that 1938 will be a much better season. We know one thing that no other crop will prove as profitable as strawberries. If you are fixed to irrigate, so much the better. Our fields this year were under mulch early. We are confident what plants there are will produce a good crop. We are sure we can supply our customers with good plants. We are not going to take up much room describing varieties because we have had almost a complete crop failure last year, mostly because of drouth, grasshoppers did our strawberries very little damage. We advise everyone to plant as early as possible, however plants can be safely planted until the middle of May, providing you have fairly favorable weather. All varieties listed below are perfect bloomers and do not need any other varieties planted with them.

DUNLAP—This is the standard plant and perhaps the best all around berry for home use, it is not a good shipper.

BLAKEMORE—Almost as productive as Dunlap, the berry is firmer, plant grows about the same but it has its weakness.

BELLMAR—This is a comparatively new berry but a wonderfully fine berry. Plant grows good but not equal to some other varieties.

DORSET—Produces a very large plant with liberal amount of runners, withstands the drouth well, not quite as productive as it should be.

FAIRFAX—Somewhat like Dorset but berries are of extra good quality.

PREMIER—In many places the standard of productiveness. Produces a very large berry, withstands drouth well.

MASTODON EVERBEARER—Withstands drouth well, but does not make many runners. Produces fruit all summer with favorable weather.

GEM EVERBEARER—Not as hardy a plant as Mastodon. Berries much better.

PRICES OF STRAWBERRY PLANTS—POSTAGE PREPAID.

TREES

Because of many years of drouth, insect pests, and old age, many trees have died the past few years, and the country, generally, is very short of forest trees. For those who are planting only around their buildings we can supply large trees as follows:

CHINESE ELM—8-10 ft., $2.00 to $2.50 each; 6-8 ft., $1.50 to $2.00 each; 4-6 ft., 50c each; 2-3 ft., 10c, 15 for $1.00. Small seedlings, 12-18 inches, $2.00 per hundred, $15.00 per thousand.

HARD MAPLE—3 inch caliper, $5.00 to $6.00 each; 8-10 ft., $2.00 to $2.50 each; 6-8 ft., $1.50 to $2.00 each.

CUT LEAF WEEPING BIRCH—$2.00 each.

PIN OAK—3 inch caliper, $5.00 to $6.00 each; 8-10 ft., $2.00 to $2.50 each; 6-8 ft., $1.50 to $2.00 each.

For planting wind breaks we can supply seedlings. Chinese Elm, American Elm, Russian Mulberry, Green Ash, Russian Olive, Cottonwoods, at $1.50 a hundred and up; $12.00 per thousand and up, according to size, variety and quantity wanted.

EVERGREENS

To our way of thinking, there is no wind break as good as the Scotch Pine. The Scotch Pine has lived through all the dry seasons we have had. Plant Scotch Pine for wind breaks, 15-20 ft. apart and plant some kind of shrubbery like Lilac or Spirea in between and you have almost a perfect wind break. As the tree grows older and larger the shrubbery spreads so as to keep the wind from blowing in under the trees, and the trees grow taller as the years go by. These wind breaks are worth more than they cost to shelter live stock in the winter and for shade in the summer.

Red Cedar is a good tree to plant but you can't grow apples anywhere near and in some places they are quarantined against planting them. Scotch Pine is a better tree and does not carry any diseases with it. As ornamentals we have many other kinds of Evergreens at different prices.

Prices of Evergreens: Scotch Pine, 6-8 ft., B & B, $4.00 each; 3-4 ft., $2.00 each. Baker's Arborvida, 3-4 ft., $3.00 each. Colorado Blue Spruce, $5.00 to $20.00 each according to size, color, etc. Pfitzer's Juniper, one of the best prostrates, $2.50 to $8.00 each. Andora Juniper, $2.50 up. We also have other Evergreens.

SHRUBBERY—Spirea Van Houtte, 10c to $1.00 each; Snowball, 40c each; Hydrangia, 50c each; Staghorn Shumac, 40c each; Althea, 40c each; Beauty Bush, 60c each; Butterfly Bush, 60c each; Caragana, 25c each; Red Dogwood, 50c each; Desmodium, 40c each. Lilacs, 25c to $1.00 each.
